

September 23, message to Canada's Golf Course Superintendents

Jeff Calderwood, CGSA's Executive Director

In keeping with this Thank A Golf Course Superintendent Day, I wanted to reach out and express the CGSA's appreciation for all that you and your team do every day, enabling golf to be the most played sport in Canada. And this year in particular, our golf industry has really needed such leadership as we navigate through the extra layer of managing new safety protocols and all the related challenges. Today, golfers and our entire industry celebrate your dedication and the critical importance of your ongoing accomplishments. Thank you so much!
